The screenshot shows the Gale Academic OneFile interface. At the top, it says 'My Library: The National Library of Korea' and 'GALE ACADEMIC ONEFILE'. A search bar is visible with 'Advanced Search' options. The article title is 'Planting and harvesting innovation - an analysis of Samsung Electronics.' Below the title, there are three columns of metadata: Authors (Seung Hoon Jang, Sang M. Lee, Taewan Kim and Donghyun Choi), From (International Journal of Quality Innovation), and Document Type (Article). A red box highlights a toolbar containing icons for Translate, Font Size, Listen, and other utilities. On the right, there are sections for 'EXPLORE', 'More Like This' (with patent links), and 'Related Subjects' (listing Samsung Electro-Mechanics Company Ltd., High technology industry, etc.).

Introduction

Globalization and advances in technologies have made the global market extremely dynamic and competitive. While companies like Apple have created new customer value by introducing such products as iMac computer and iPhone, many other firms have failed to adapt to the fast-changing environment. Kodak, the creator of the film camera, became history since it failed to
